JAPS SAY WE INVADE RYUKYUS

Japan's Ryukyu islands, some 300 miles southwest of the Nip homeland itself, are shown on the map above. According to the Jap radio, the U. S. made an invasion of the Ryukyus, which stretch out in a long line over 650 miles of ocean. There are 55 islands in the group. Shuri, in the Okinawa cluster, is the capital. Naha, a modern town, possesses a naval base.

A week ago today we were experiencing a snow storm.

What ever happened to that "Haul someone to work" plan?

Can't think of anything mean enough to say about these perpetual gum snappers during a serious movie film. The resulting noise is terrifying (gum chompers please note).

Approximately two months and the Cascade flowers, reared during the winter, will be placed in their proper beds. However, none will be transplanted until all danger of frost has passed.

Automobile and truck license tags of 1944 will not become invalid until April 7, or one week after the original deadline. Secretary of Revenue David W. Harris announced. Registration employees would have been forced to work over Easter if the extension had not been granted, he explained.

Courteous act was observed by one of Pa Newc's family yesterday. An aged lady had difficulty boarding a Highland bus. The operator left his seat and aided her. He did likewise when she left the bus.

Amateur gardeners are preparing for the V-vegetable season. Some already have selected their plots. Others are slouching around to obtain one with good soil.

It happened this morning on Washington street. A man was bitterly complaining that he stood in line for cigarettes for five minutes, only to find that paper handkerchiefs were being sold. A lady who had overheard the story spoke up and asked if she could buy the tissues since he was so disappointed at getting them, but the man replied that he didn't have them. "I walked away when I found out what they were selling," he explained. "I didn't think anyone I knew would want them." The lady was disgusted.

This year's heavy snow has produced a peculiar condition with some types of decorative shrubbery. It has been found. Buddleia, forsythia, and some other tender types, have had the tops frozen off, but down near the ground, where the snow covered the bushes, healthy growth is noticed. It may be that the heavy protective covering of snow, which kept the ground from freezing.

Ryukyu Islands Being Shelled By U. S. Task Force

No Confirmation Of Japanese Reports That Americans Have Been Landed

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ADVANCED PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Guam, March 28.—A mighty U. S. task force continued to rain shells and bombs upon Jap positions in the Ryukyu islands. Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today as the Tokyo radio insisted that American troops were ashore and fighting fiercely in that strategic archipelago.

Though Nimitz' latest communique ignored enemy reports that an invasion had begun of the island chain, which extends nearly all the way from Formosa to Japan, the Jap broadcasts said Yank amphibious troops "have finally effected landings" on the Kerama islands. The group of isles are west of the main Okinawa island in the Ryukyus, approximately 400 miles southwest of the Japanese home island of Kyushu.

SOME INJURY IS DONE PEACH CROP

Local Orchardists Find Past Winter Was Severe One To Peach Crop In Some Sections

Some damage has been reported to the peach crop by local orchardists. County Agent L. C. Dayton stated today, although in others in less exposed places, a fair crop may result if no future damage results from freezing temperatures. Orchardists report that trees in exposed places suffered from sub-zero temperatures, and from ice forming on the trees following rains during the winter. Peaches, it is stated by orchardists, are very tender, and the blossom bud is easily killed in these sections.

PARIS RADIO SAYS WUERZBURG PASSED

NEW YORK, March 28.—(INS)—Radio Paris, often unreliable in its reports, said today there were indications that "American tanks which crossed the Main river" at Aschaffenburg have passed the old Bavarian city of Wuertzburg, and are no more than 50 kilometers (30 miles) from Nuernberg.

GERMAN POSITION REPORTED WORSE

LONDON, March 28.—(INS)—A Reuter dispatch from British Second Army headquarters declared that the position of Germany today is worse than yesterday when organized Nazi resistance started collapsing.

Another Army Is Massed For Renewed Drive On Berlin, Says Moscow

DANZIG, GDYNIA, MAY BE TAKEN SOON

BULLETIN

MOSCOW, March 28.—(INS)—Two Soviet armies, already within 20 miles of the Austrian frontier, swept forward on the last 60 miles before Vienna today and began to storm the Raba river, last major natural barrier before the boundary line is reached.

Luftwaffe reinforcements attempted to attack the westward-sweeping Soviet columns, but were driven off by Russian pilots who flew thousands of sorties over the frontlines.

Yanks Driving Steadily Ahead On Cebu Island

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANILA, March 28.—American amphibious troops, pressing a new invasion of Cebu against only "moderate" Jap resistance, drove steadily inland today and threatened the bomb-battered capital of that central Philippine island.

Elements of the famed American Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. W. H. Arnold, stormed ashore on the east coast of Cebu some five miles southwest of Cebu city.

Hitting the beaches at Talisay after "effective" bombardment by army aircraft and warships of the U. S. Seventh Fleet, the Yanks moved rapidly forward, gaining 3,000 yards before contacting the enemy. Maintaining their advance, the liberation units stabbed halfway to Cebu, the capital.

Near Leyte

Cebu, a narrow 140-mile long island, lies between liberated Leyte and yet-to-be-liberated Negros islands. It is separated from the latter by the narrow Tañon strait and from Leyte by the narrowest and most northerly part of the Camotes sea.

Its main defenses have been hampered from the air regularly during recent weeks.

On Luzon, capital island of the archipelago, other U. S. troops continued their strategic advances. Elements of the 11th Airborne Division advanced northward 10 miles to within a mile of Lipa, key road and rail center of northern Batangas. At the same time, units of the famous First Cavalry made a similar gain and seized the Malvar Airfield, below Tanauan.

Gets Divorce From Sara Churchill

LONDON, March 28.—(INS)—Vic Oliver, stage and screen star, was granted a decree nisi of divorce today from WAAF Section Officer, Sarah Millicent Spencer Oliver, daughter of Prime Minister and Mrs. Winston Churchill, on grounds of desertion.

The suit, which was not defended, was before Justice Henn Collins last Monday but was adjourned until proof of marriage, which took place Dec. 24, 1936, in New York could be given by an American lawyer.

Argentine Problem Nearing Solution

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(INS)—It was freely predicted in diplomatic circles today that Argentina will be brought back into the Pan American family in time to get an invitation to the San Francisco conference next month.

The Argentine question was moving to a rapid solution following that government's action yesterday of declaring war on the Axis and affirming its solidarity with the other 20 American republics.

Report Hitler And Generals Are In Conflict

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 28.—With Allied armies running rampant over western Germany, informed experts in Washington today optimistically awaited the final crackup of the Nazi high command bolstered by reports from neutral capitals that a wide cleavage has developed between Hitler and his generals.

Military experts are convinced that the German army is demoralized in the lower echelons, while the commanders are disorganized and believe the Nazis cannot establish a new line of defense.

This being the case, only strong points of resistance, probably in cities, towns and villages, appear to stand in the way of a clear sweep across Germany until a juncture is made with the Russians fighting into the Reich from the east. The final step only will then remain, that of encircling the German forces in the east and of destroying them.

See Conflict

With this prospect facing the German high command, observers are convinced that a conflict is raging among the upper German leaders on the course they should pursue. Hints of such a cleavage have come from neutral capitals. Adolf Hitler and other top Nazis reportedly met in Berchtesgaden and decided to fight on, but only after one faction made a stand for capitulation.

It was considered notable, too, that Marshal Keitel, chief of staff, was not at the meeting. This would seem to indicate that a break has taken place between the military and the Nazi leaders.

If such a cleavage persists, it is almost certain to spell the doom of Hitler's once vaunted dream of retiring with his army to the mountains in the south and holding out there.

This hope of reprieve already is (Continued on Page Two)

Miners Voting On Strike Issue

Approximately 400,000 Taking Part In Vote On Strike Call During Day

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(INS)—A warning nation witnessed the largest strike vote in its history today as 400,000 soft coal miners balloted in a government-supervised election on whether to authorize a general work stoppage in support of their demands for higher wages.

Throughout the bituminous coal fields of the United States, the members of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers "scratched" "yes" or "no" ballots bearing this question: "Do you wish to permit an interruption of war production in wartime as result of this dispute?"

The voting, estimated to cost nearly $1 a ballot, was scheduled to proceed from dawn to nightfall in a score of states. The UMW pledged its fullest cooperation in conducting the vote without loss of work and voting booths were located as near the mines as possible.

In only one instance was advance trouble reported by the National Labor Relations board which hired 4,000 special agents and dropped its other business to handle the mine vote.

The Pocahontas Fuel company in Virginia refused to permit voting on its property and the booth were placed 21 miles from the mine. The miners announced their determination to vote, even if it meant interrupting production.

The results of the election will be telegraphed to NLRB headquarters in Washington and tabulated by tomorrow morning. Early indications were that the miners would vote overwhelmingly in favor of a strike, giving Lewis a great psychological advantage in the current wage negotiations.

News Blackout Obscures Drive By Third Army

Report General German Withdrawal In Path Of Gen. Patton's Armored Veterans

By LARRY NEWMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE U. S. THIRD ARMY IN GERMANY, March 28.—A general German withdrawal in the path of fast-moving American third-army troops was reported in progress today.

A partial security blackout was imposed on the movements of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., and his veteran forces.

But it is possible to disclose that another crossing of the Rhine between the Main and Lahn rivers was achieved this morning.

Backed by additional troop reinforcements in undisclosed numbers, Patton's armor began maneuvering again. Two columns of the famous fourth armored division piled up new advances of four miles north of Hanau.

During the last six days, Patton's troops have taken 10,251 prisoners east of the Rhine.

Fighting Inside Frankfurt

Official sources revealed that the veteran Fifth Infantry Division, one of Patton's crack outfits, is fighting inside Frankfurt, where resistance is confined mainly to terrific artillery bombardments.

Between Frankfurt and Hanau, the 90th Division crossed the Main river and gained nearly three miles early this morning.

Two-thirds of Hanau have been cleared of the enemy and mopping up operations are underway at Aschaffenburg.

More than 400 loaded boxcars were captured by the Sixth Armored Division, which found the cars jammed with intact enemy equipment. This was accomplished in the Frankfurt area, making more than 1,100 cars taken in the six days of Patton's lightning drive.

British Forces Smash Ahead For Large Gains

By JOHN E. LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH SECOND ARMY EAST OF THE RHINE, March 28.—The British Second Army broke out of its power-packed bridgehead east of the Rhine last night and early today and smashed through German defenses for gains of up to five and one-half miles.

The British spearhead driving northward made gains of between 5,000 and 6,000 yards while those pushing eastward through the Ruhr advanced 10,000 yards.

Farther north Canadian First Army forces fought their way into and captured Vasselst, two and one-half miles from Emmerich.

Waning Opposition

Battle reports indicated that the Canadians, like the British, were encountering waning opposition from the disrupted German forces. Demolition explosions in the area still held by the Germans indicated that the Nazis still in the area were pulling out.

British forces pushed to within a mile of Anholt where they entered Isselburg.

Strongest opposition was encountered east of Rees where Scottish troops were engaged in brisk fighting to clear elements of the German Seventh parachute division from a wooded area.

Aside from the region east of Rees enemy opposition was described as "spotty."

British Second Army Hopes To Win Berlin Race

WITH THE BRITISH SECOND ARMY EAST OF THE RHINE, March 28.—(INS)—The British Second Army surged eastward beyond Brunen today, tearing through crumbling Nazi defenses in a race toward Berlin with every Tommy hoping they will reach the Reich capital ahead of the rampaging U. S. Third Army.

The British bulge on the Berlin side of the Rhine is crowded with men and weapons which have moved across the river in preparation for Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's breakthrough which already is under way.

Smashing Of Rhine River Front Stands As New War Record

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially For International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 28.—The smashing of the entire Rhine river front within a period of only slightly more than thirty days of offensive action is the greatest achievement ever attained in this or any other war.

In the immediate future, organized German resistance on the western front will collapse. There will be no high Nazi command control. The fighting in the west will disintegrate, if it continues, into a series of isolated and totally unconnected battles.

The failure of organized Nazi command in the west will shortly transmit itself to the German fighting line which is now facing the Soviet armies. Then the eastern Nazi defense will cease to have organized high command control.

End Of Hitlerism Nears

Truly, the end of Hitler, his Nazi ideology, and the Prussian military cult is in sight.

It has long been stated that the Germans have had plans to withdraw into the mountains in the south of Germany for a last-fight-to-the-death struggle. It is believed that the southern mountains, particularly the Alps, and their elated series of mountains, have been or are to be converted into a great German citadel. In addition, all German civilians have been ordered, we are told, to enter into guerrilla (Continued on Page Two)

Prosecution Of Dog Owners Starts

Eleven Arrests Are Made In New Castle Tuesday By Enforcement Agent McClure

Prosecution of dog owners throughout Lawrence county began with the arrest of 11 dog owners here for permitting their dogs to run at large without a license tag by Howard E. McClure, dog law investigator for Lawrence county. The dog owners were taken before local aldermen, where they were assessed fines.

Because of the widespread epidemic of rabies which has existed throughout Pennsylvania during the past year, the Department of Animal Husbandry is making every effort to stamp out the disease by prosecuting dog owners who allow their dogs to run at large, particularly unlicensed dogs whose ownership cannot be traced.

Other prosecutions will occur in other sections of the county, Mr. McClure warns, so owners should not only get licenses for their dogs, but should also see that they are not permitted to run at large.

Big New Gains Made All Along German Front

Advance Units Have Penetrated Deep Into Interior Of Germany Almost Unimpeded

SECURITY COVERS ACTUAL LOCATIONS (BULLETIN)

PARIS, March 28.—(INS)—A German retreat north of the Ruhr valley in the wake of a violent British army offensive turned into a rout today, duplicating the disorganized Nazi military situation over increasingly wide areas of central Germany.

Reconnaissance pilots flying over the battle lines between Bockholt and Dorset following the British breakthrough reported back to supreme headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on the riotous German retreat.

The Germans are moving so fast to get out of the way of British armor, these fliers said, that the "bombing line"—the range of aerial attack against them—is being changed every twenty minutes.

PARIS, March 28.—

Against steadily crumbling resistance by a German army that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has labelled as already "whipped," American and British troops ripped headlong through the Nazi Reich today.

With the United States First Army already sixty miles east of the Rhine and the Third Army of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., moving on Nuernberg in the wake of German forces reported in general retreat, the British Second Army broke out of its Rhine bridgehead north of the Ruhr and surged twenty miles to the east.

Hear Reports Of Frankfurt Riots

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, March 28.—(INS)—Riotous swept Frankfurt-on-the-Main today when the remaining hundred thousand civilians in the city demanded that Frankfurt be surrendered without a fight, a British broadcast, heard by NBC monitors, said today.

According to the British report, the bulk of the regular German garrison in Frankfurt has been withdrawn, leaving the city to be defended by the Volkssturm, the so-called German people's army commanded by the ranking Nazi party leader of Frankfurt.

The broadcast added that about 400 thousand civilians have left the city, leaving about a hundred thousand persons behind, and that when the Nazi leader refused to surrender, the riots broke out.

Last reports from the front placed Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army in the suburbs of Frankfurt.

There's a new gown and hat for the mama, and sis has a pair of new shoes, a suit with a pin stripe for a junior but papa gets out his old blues, a press for the coat and the trousers and sponge off the cream from the vest, come Easter and dad will be strolling down street all decked in his best. The hat is a pre-Hitler relic, the shoes I would say are pre-war, and the suit was designed when they still gave you vests, and that they don't do any more. But the folks are all ready for Easter, all but dad who'll be dressed up in blue, but next week he'll be getting the store bills, the weather is seventy-two.

Meat Packers Blame O.P.A. For Situation Now

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 28.—One of the Nation's biggest meat packers told Congress today that O.P.A. regulations are driving his company's plants toward government ownership.

"If this goes on for two or three years the government will have to furnish money and operate the plants," Thomas E. Wilson, chairman of the board of Wilson and Co., told the Senate black market investigating committee.

Wilson, first of the "big four" packers to testify, declared that rules and regulations prevent the packing industry from correcting their troubles themselves, asserting that "large sections of our business are headed for heavy losses."

"In normal times we could use our own judgment to meet such situations," he said. "Now we are tied to rules and regulations that keep us from exercising our judgment and doing the things we know should be done."

Losing Money

Wilson said he believed he "spoke for the industry" in asserting that packers are losing money on beef and pig slaughter.

"We cannot buy live stock at controlled prices and sell meat at controlled prices without losing money—a lot of money," he declared.

"The more hogs you kill, the more you lose," Wilson was asked.

"We can't kill a pig without loss," the packer replied.

Telling of losses on beef, Wilson declared his company is furnishing the armed services "all the beef we can, regardless of results, and we will continue to do so so long as we can keep our heads above water."

"But it's getting pretty close to our breathing apparatus," he added.

Relief in recent O.P.A. orders "has taken care of only about half of our losses," Wilson said.

He predicted that the packers' difficulties will become much worse "unless some change in regulations is made—and made quickly."

The big four packers—whose company operates plants in many American cities and in Argentina and Brazil—joined spokesmen for 700 smaller packing firms in blaming O.P.A. policies for meat troubles.

THREE RUSSIAN ARMIES DRIVING TOWARDS VIENNA

army, fighting in the extreme southwest tip of Poland on the left flank of the First Ukrainian army, has moved to within three miles of the Czechoslovak border and were 12 miles from the important city of Moravskasovava at the northern entrance of the corridor linking Poland with the Danube valley.

The drive engulfed the key communications hub of Lössau, 10 miles southwest of Rydnik and 40 other towns and villages.

Columns of the Third Ukrainian army driving on Vienna between Lake Pelaton and the Danube seized another 200 towns and villages, captured or killed 2,100 Nazis and, according to the Berlin radio reached positions only 22 miles from the Austrian border.

On Vienna Invasion Route

The Second Ukrainian army, fighting north and south of the Danube, also engulfed 40 towns and villages, forcing three crossings over the Iron river, and at last reports from the front were only 70 miles from the Bratislava Gap on the invasion route to Vienna.

In Silesia the First Ukrainian army sent infantry columns across the Klein Lohr river, captured the powerful German fortress of Strehlen which is the junction point for four rail lines and several highways, seized enormous stocks of war materials and wiped out 1,000 Germans in the battle for the town.

The Soviet communique was silent on the activities of the First White Russian army but Berlin said that Marshal Gregory Zhukov had massed a "super armed force" in the vicinity of Seelow, 11 miles west of the Oder river and 30 miles east of the city limits of Berlin.

Push Into Danzig

Extremely bitter fighting raged at the northern end of the eastern front where 1,000 Nazis were captured in the assaults against Danzig and Gdynia and the East Prussian pocket south of Koenigsberg during the past 48 hours.

Columns of the Second White Russian army captured 14 suburbs and then pushed into the heart of Danzig where the Germans were being driven back in savage street fighting. A simultaneous push carried other troops under the command of Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky into the center of Danzig's twin city of Gdynia and both ports were expected to fall in the immediate future.

Deaths of the Day

Rev. Ludwig Beisecker
Rev. Ludwig Beisecker, 73, died at his home, 426 Hazel avenue, Ellwood City, at noon Tuesday.

In July, 1914, Rev. Beisecker was called to Ellwood City parish where he served Trinity English Lutheran church, St. Paul's Lutheran church and Zion Lutheran church of Mt. Hope for 11 years and nine months. During his pastorate, Trinity church sold the old building and built a new church, the cornerstone of which was laid July 26, 1925.

On June 1, 1926, Rev. Beisecker accepted a call to Mt. Olivet Lutheran church, North Side, Pittsburgh. Here he served as pastor until February 1, 1929 when he accepted a call to St. John's German Lutheran church. He resigned this parish November 1, 1936. In 1937 he began to supply St. Paul's Lutheran church, Ellwood City, serving this church until the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Beisecker, four sons, Bernard Beisecker of Gary, Ind., Carl Beisecker of Pittsburgh, Hilmar Beisecker and Lewis Beisecker, both of Akron, O., and two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Horvath of Ellwood City, and Margaret, at home.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 at St. Paul's Lutheran church, East Wayne avenue, Ellwood City, conducted by Dr. Harry Reed Shepherd, president of Pittsburgh Lutheran synod.

Entombment will take place in Locust Grove mausoleum, Ellwood City.

Mrs. Magdelena T. Waldschmidt
Mrs. Magdelena Teutberg Waldschmidt died this morning at 1:30 o'clock as the result of an illness of a year's duration at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Black, 1325 East Washington street.

Survivors include six sons, Edward F. Teutberg, Bellevue, W. Va., David F. Teutberg, Munhall, Charles A. Elmer T. George L. and Fred A. Teutberg, all of Pittsburgh; one daughter, Mrs. Samuel M. Black, New Castle, and one brother, Fred Teutberg, Elmworth, Pa.

The body was removed this morning from the Howard L. Reynolds funeral home to the Scheffels and Sons' funeral home, 707 East street, Pittsburgh, where funeral services will be conducted Friday.

Interment will take place in Troy Hill cemetery, Northside, Pittsburgh.

David H. Percival
David H. Percival, aged 77 years, died Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ralph Mitchell, 441 Werner street, Youngstown, O., after an illness of a year and a half.

Mr. Percival was born on April 4, 1867, in Staffordshire, England. He resided in Youngstown since 1929, moving from New Castle. He was a member of the local Epworth F. B. Y. M. C.

But meanwhile, he added in a letter made public by the Allied food and entertainment industries of greater New York, "I do not believe any useful purpose would be accomplished by a hearing on this question at this time."

Curfew Modifying May Come Shortly

NEW YORK, March 28.—(INS)—Lifting or modification of the midnight curfew "as soon as war progress permits" was promised today by War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes.

BIG NEW GAINS MADE ALL ALONG GERMAN FRONT

gauge the exact positions of the numerous American and British spearheads darting wildly through the interior of the Reich.

But battlefield dispatches disclosed that the American First, Third and Seventh armies have linked up forming a continuous front east of the Rhine over an area some 150 miles long, while advance units have penetrated so deep into the interior that gains perhaps exceeding all expectations are expected when the blackout finally is lifted.

German resistance everywhere was reported disintegrating rapidly and the consensus in Paris was that the enemy's situation is even more precarious than yesterday, when Gen. Eisenhower announced that its western front was hopelessly broken and its armies defeated as an effective military force.

Headlong into Reich

Nazi broadcast announcements admitted that American and British forces were rushing headlong into the heart of the Reich.

The armored spearheads of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army were reported menacing the German city of Fulda, 30 miles northeast of Frankfurt, and units of the Third also were said by the Germans to be heading forward in the direction of the historic city of Nuremberg.

The British, according to the Germans, were approaching Haltern about 25 miles east of Wesel which lies on the east bank of the Rhine. Another column under Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's command was said to be within about five miles of Bocholt.

The armed-tipped American First Army, already more than 54 miles east of the Rhine, made consistent headway in spectacular drives rivaling those of the Third Army.

A BBC report recorded by NBC said that the First Army now was some 60 miles beyond the Rhine.

34 Miles East Of Rhine

The First Army, after rolling up gains of 27 miles, drove on to Akenburg, 34 miles east of the Rhine.

Gains of up to five and one-half miles to the east were reported officially from British headquarters after the British and Dominion forces broke out of their bridgehead.

A dispatch from Field Marshal Montgomery's headquarters said German resistance was falling apart all along the line of the central breakthrough.

Gen. Patton, already reported within 225 miles of Berlin and within 135 miles of the Czechoslovak border, appeared to be maneuvering at will.

The German radio said that one of Patton's armored forces, which thrust beyond Aachenburg, on the main river, was joined by another force of 150 tanks in a push in the direction of Spessart mountains.

Resistance In Frankfurt

Gen. Patton's troops continued to meet resistance inside the embattled city of Frankfurt while forces moving on to the east scored advances of seven to 10 miles.

The Nazi DNB agency reported American assault troops had penetrated to the area of the Frankfurt rail station but asserted that after a fierce battle most of the attacking force was wiped out.

The Third Army entered Frankfurt, industrial capital of the upper Rhineland, after the Sixth Armored Division had cleared the suburban areas except Offenbach, on the southeastern fringe.

Staff area, battles were in progress inside Frankfurt, center of the German chemical industry and headquarters of the huge I. G. Farben-Industrie combine.

radio as carrying out "gallant battle" against the American invasion force.

"With the signs of enemy forces advancing, the strength of our forces has been reinforced, and all the forces are at this time working as one unit burning with the total spirit of special attack," continued the Tokyo transmitter.

Nimitz made no comment on Japanese claims restricting his announcement regarding the Ryukyu operation to the Pacific fleet to the bare statement.

"On March 27, carrier aircraft of the U. S. Pacific fleet continued to attack enemy forces and defense installations in the Ryukyu and surface units attacked coastal objectives with naval gunfire."

Hitler, who used to pore over history books, confines himself these days, no doubt, to reading escape literature.

warfare against the United Nations. As yet, there has been little indication that the German populace would obey such an order once their local military forces have been defeated or been withdrawn.

Nazi Plans Doubtful

It now remains to be seen whether or not the remnants of the German armies can accomplish an orderly withdrawal to the mountains in the south. The ability to do that at this time seems improbable. High control cannot continue under the conditions of the present crushing blows being delivered by the Allies, or the rushing advances of American armor.

If all high military control is lost, within all of Germany it will then remain to be seen how many of the isolated and individual groups of Nazis will continue to fight, and how long they can give battle.

It should definitely be remembered that Hitler and all of his Nazi chieftains, including the Prussian military cult, have nothing to lose.

Hitler Battles For Life

A man who is sentenced to extermination cannot have his death sentence increased. Therefore, we may safely assume that as long as Hitler, his chiefs, and their Gestapo, together with the professional military officers of Germany can continue to fight, they will do so.

For that reason, it is definitely wrong to assume that the fighting in Germany will stop immediately. It could easily be continued for months and months, and remember nothing so infuriates our men fighting in Western Europe as the thought that we here at home are assuming the war is finished. To our soldiers that war is never finished as long as they are being shot at.

PATROL CLASHES ON ITALIAN FRONT

ROME, March 28.—(INS)—Butter patrol clashes marked the fighting along the American Fifth and British Eighth army fronts in Italy where spring torrents turned the terrain into a quagmire today and reduced air activity to 100 sorties.

The Americans ambushed one German 30-man patrol south of Bologna, killing three Nazis and wounding five others.

When Attorneys Speak of Funeral Service . . .

These messages have brought favorable comment from attorneys, insurance men and bank trust officers. Experience in estate matters has taught these men the importance of advance knowledge about funeral service and its cost.

If the heads of families would include funeral arrangements when they are planning wills, insurance or trust funds, the future of their dependents would be better assured.

That is why we invite consultation and advance arrangements. There is nothing about our services that the public cannot know.

SNYDER SPRING CHURCH CEREMONY

At a candlelight service at the First Baptist church on Tuesday evening, Miss Shirley Jean Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Snyder, of 218 Edgewood avenue, became the bride of Everett Fisk Spring, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Spring, of 323 East 25th Street, Erie.

Rev. Oliver W. Hurst heard the exchange of vows at 7 o'clock before the altar banked with palms, ferns and spring flowers. The double ring service was used.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of white satin and tulle made with a satin bodice and train-length tulle skirt. Her fingertip-length tulle veil fell from a pearl tiara headdress. She carried white roses and wore a strand of pearls that had been her grandmother's.

As attendants she had Mrs. George Wisner, matron of honor who wore a gown of pink tulle and tulle with pink tulle headdress and carried yellow roses. Mrs. Shirley Spring, of Erie, and Miss Ruth Pitzer, bridesmaids, who wore gowns of the same style in blue and carried pink roses. Flower girl was Miss Caroline Hurst who wore daffodil yellow tulle.

Shirley Spring, of Erie, served his brother as best man, and ushers were Marshall Curran and Thomas Klingensmith.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mrs. W. H. Lulkaert at the organ played a half hour recital of organ music. As soloist, Mrs. Paul Weller sang "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

Afterwards a reception was held in the church dining room where Mrs. Thomas Salsbury and Miss Hazel Zeigler poured for guests from a long refreshment table decorated in pink and white. Other guests were Mrs. Leroy Martin, Mrs. J. A. Porter, Mrs. Bert McKibben, Mrs. Oliver Duval, and Mrs. Paul S. McConahy.

The bride and groom left for Madison, N. J., where he is a student at Drew Theological Seminary and will complete his theological course in June. Mrs. Spring will return to New Castle about the middle of April to make her home temporarily.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Spring, all of Erie; Mrs. Jean Gilliland, of Jamestown; Mrs. Mont Emerick, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Frank Robinson, of Trenton, N. J.; Mrs. S. Steves, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Moore and Miss Peggy Moore, all of Youngstown; Mrs. Fred Kelsey, Mrs. Gila Cane, Mrs. W. Jones, Miss Minnie Watkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Kelsey, all of Alliquipp; Mr. and Mrs. John Dankel, and Miss Lois Dankel, of Poland, O.; and Rev. Homer B. Davis, of Clintonville.

MUSIC CLUB PROGRAM GIVEN LAST NIGHT

An Easter-tide religious program given annually by the Music Club of New Castle, featured Tuesday night at Epworth Methodist church, with a large assemblage of members and guests in attendance. Mrs. James Moorehead, hostess, was introduced by President Mrs. Jay L. Reed for this beautifully balanced Lenten presentation.

Solemnity was added by the candlelight setting, white tapers in branching candelabrum imposed at either side of the church altar being used effectively, with additional lighted tapers reflecting the gothic arch of the choir loft.

The program, divided into two parts, included the narration of the story of Holy Week by Dr. J. J. McIlvaine.

Solos were offered by William McCombs, Ruth Weir, Mrs. Paul Laderer, Delbert Fletcher, Florence Thompson, and David Reese. The trio composed of Mrs. Dorothy Gormley Smith, Delbert Fletcher and David Reese. An organ and piano duet was played by Mrs. J. M. Pyle and her daughter, Lenore Ann Pyle. Accompaniments were contributed by Mrs. Pyle, music director of Epworth church, and Mrs. George E. Strehlor.

For the second part, the melodious "Seraphic Song" by Rubenstein was sung by the 25 voices of Epworth choir under direction of Mrs. Pyle. Mrs. J. H. Buckner was the soloist, with Mrs. Pyle, Lenore Ann Pyle and Kathryn Bittner giving superb support of organ, piano and violin respectively.

Slate of nominated officers for The Music club was presented as follows: president, Mrs. George E. Strehlor; first vice president, Mrs. Dorothy Gormley Smith; second vice president, Mrs. Richard K. Allen; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Delbert Fletcher; recording secretary, Isabel Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. H. W. Helmick; assistant treasurer, Ruth Weir; retiring president, Mrs. Jay L. Reed; executive members, Mrs. J. J. Alexander and Mrs. L. P. Hauschild.

Ushering were Mrs. Robert Fleming, Edna Weide, Mrs. Wm. J. Caldwell and Mrs. S. Glenn McCracken.

SILVER WEDDING AT H. RIBLET HOME

Silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Riblet, Front street, was appropriately observed at their residence recently, the occasion falling on March 25.

A family dinner was served at 1:30 o'clock to 18 guests at a beautifully appointed table, launched the informal celebration. In charge were Edna Gilliland, Mrs. Francis Taylor of Pulaski and Mrs. W. B. Gilliland of New Wilmington.

Following a reception was held from 4 until 9 o'clock for a host of friends. A buffet lunch was served during this period by Mrs. James Gilliland and Mrs. Harley Crowe.

Many lovely gifts commemorating the event were received by the guests of honor. Especially treasured is the silver spoon dating over 200 years old sent by Cpl. William Hamilton from England, a cousin of Mr. Riblet and a former member of Westminster faculty serving overseas.

Among the guests was George Lostetter of Pulaski. He served as best man at the wedding 25 years ago.

A large array of gifts, congratulatory messages, and numerous floral bouquets which decorated the rooms throughout, were additional mementos.

Mrs. Riblet was the former Adda Gilliland prior to her marriage.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Yanks On War Fronts Lack Homefront News

WASHINGTON, March 28.—By plane the battlefield is only 24 hours away, yet Yanks in Europe have a sense of living on another planet.

Most Americans feel cut off from the normal world they left behind. It is hard to give any idea of the sense of isolation you feel on the other side of the Atlantic.

News facilities are necessarily limited. One of the objectives on which Stephen Early worked hardest, during his mission to improve public relations in the European theater, was to open additional channels of news to the millions of men away from home.

"Stars and Stripes," the Army newspaper, tried to fill the vacuum. But there is a vacuum nevertheless. And sometimes news that might not seem sensational when related to the normal flow of events makes a terrific impact on being dropped into that vacuum.

On the front page of the "Stars and Stripes," when I was in the Italian theater, was an account of the first fight on the floor of the House of Representatives between Representative Rankin of Mississippi and Representative Hook of Michigan, the former a Southern Bourbon, the latter out of the CIO wing of the Democratic party. It had a shocking, shameful sound, that brief account of brawling in the House.

A day or two later I saw a GI sitting in a foxhole on a mountain-side reading that same paper, while now and then the Germans lobbed in mortar shells. I wondered what he was thinking about the democracy he was fighting to save.

That, of course, is what too few of us over here realize—that we are being judged by the news that does get through to the generation of Americans fighting all over the world. When they read about black markets and profiteering, they feel let down, betrayed.

Incidentally, the accounts I heard of the behavior of the party of congressmen who toured the war fronts at the end of last year were not encouraging. They behaved, or some of them did, as though their trip through the war were an outing of the American Association of Chivalry and Marching Clubs. At least a half dozen times I was told two members of the party went to sleep during a briefing by General Bradley in military developments.

Some members of the special military affairs committee behaved like responsible citizens, taking an earnest interest in what they were shown. If Representative Clare Boothe Luce got the biggest play in the news, to the annoyance of some of her male colleagues, it was not alone because she was the most decorative member of the party but, according to reports given me in Europe, because she showed an intelligent understanding of what she saw.

Representative Albert Gore of Tennessee deserves highest praise for putting aside his congressional prerogatives and getting down to a first-hand look at the front of how our military government in Germany is working out. His report to the House last week was evidence of the hard work he did during the months he spent in Europe.

The real link with our men overseas is, of course, through personal letters. There is no substitute for it. Everywhere I went, through ten thousand miles of war, they were concerned with getting the mail moved along as quickly as possible. Sometimes in the forward areas there were delays, but most GIs seemed fairly well satisfied with the way in which letters from home were coming through.

Quite a few spoke of letters they had received from former employers. Of these were only letters, but the men who received them they were a pledge that they had not been forgotten and that a place awaited them when they returned. The importance of this last cannot be overstressed. It is especially important to men in their thirties. The war has uprooted them, often from positions achieved after a long struggle.

These older men must subordinate or even mental tasks. They are thoroughly aware that the competition for place and prestige back home has not been suspended by the war. In fact, if anything, the competitive struggle seems to have been sharpened in their absence. In the long intervals of dullness and waiting they begin to wonder whether there will ever again be a place for them.

We can give the answer, and at the cost of only a three-cent stamp. They want to believe in a secure, stable America, and it is up to us to see that that is the kind of America they return to.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILDREN WHO CRY

Some youngsters from two to five will cry at the slightest provocation, especially when their purposes are thwarted. Should this practice begin suddenly and grow worse, the child and his diet and program should be checked by your doctor.

Also you should examine yourself to see whether you are irritable, tense or jittery, or have been inconsistent, unreliable or excessive in the use of No.

You should study the emotions of your child, such as his anger and jealousy, especially if there is a younger child in the family. Ask yourself, furthermore, if your youngster has abundant outlets for creative play and expression. Do you read to him? My selected list of books from which to read to the baby and young child may be had in a stamped envelope. Has he a nap by day? Has he hours enough of sleep by night? Does he get over-tired? Over-excited? Jittery? Has he abundant affection?

Your child may cry at the slightest bump. Unaware, you may have encouraged this response by revealing fear or anxiety over his smallest injuries, or paying undue attention to them. Gradually you can help him improve by working on yourself to act more wisely henceforth.

Bad Habit

All the foregoing factors checked and found fairly satisfactory, you may still have frequent and protracted periods of crying and whining. It may then be well to consider it a bad habit and to send him to sit in a chair or stay in another room for a definite period or until he is ready to return, not cry.

Or I have advised against isolating the naughty child to punish him at home, on the grounds he might get into more devilry. I have said that sitting in a chair for a definite time where he can be seen is better. For most cases of bad behavior, I still hold that this is the better way. But it looks as if I was too steeping in my advice.

A few years ago, while visiting in the home of my eldest granddaughter, then about three, I observed that her mother made it a rule, when this child cried unduly long over some forbidden, to send her to another room until she was ready to come out smiling.

More recently, I saw my daughter send her two-year-old to another room for the same reason and with similar results. Apparently this procedure can do a great deal to teach the youngster to control herself so as to be fit to be with the rest of the family.

Neighbor Child

"Dear Dr. Myers: When I read your article about our responsibility to our neighbor's children I was so pleased I resolved to write you hoping I could make a suggestion that would cause other mothers to do what we have had so much pleasure in doing for Sonny, whose mother works."

He often played in our yard and so many times he would bring things he'd made for me to admire, call me out to the sandpile to see his construction and once even asked me if I had to stay in the house. When I said No and went out to hoe my flowers near where they were all playing I had to stop so often to marvel over the things they could do over the turning pole I didn't get much hoeing done.

"One woman in our city heard about a boys' club that required a boy to steal before he could become a member. Did she write to the papers and magazines about it and go to the already overworked, and overtaxed, parents, asking if they invited them to hold their club meetings at her beautiful home and now it is a different sort of club."

WHAT IS CHARM?

"Can you define charm and give me pointers on how to attain it? I often hear people say that a certain woman has charm but I cannot understand just what it is."

Answer: You are really requesting a big order when you ask me to define charm. It is that intangible, elusive, undefinable something that every woman wants but few ever attain.

To quote the late Queen Marie of Rumania who was generously endowed with it herself: "Charm is so subtle a thing, so immaterial, yet it is taking, penetrating. It can hold you fast and never let you go."

It is not beauty for some of the most charming women in history were not remotely beautiful. Says a noted beauty authority: "If a woman has charm, she can be actually ugly and still be attractive."

It is neither wit nor speech nor manners alone which create charm, though these qualities go into the making of a charming personality. Although we cannot all attain this inherent quality, we can strive for and attain these outward essentials of charm:

Good speech, a cultivated voice, taste in dress, a good carriage, poise, cheerfulness, cheerfulness, tact in conversation.

One of the most important physical attributes in the attainment of a charming personality is good grooming. Cleanliness is one of the important factors. Good health is the prime essential. No one can be appealing who is low in vitality or depressed in body or mind.

Give yourself an honest check-up and see if you meet all of these physical requirements. If you do, you will know that you have done your best toward gaining a charming personality. You will then have to let nature take care of the rest.

Washington Report

Democrats Still Have Manpower Hopes
Income Tax Hit Congressmen Hard Too
Friction Is Reported Within The CIO

By HELEN ESSARY (Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Democratic leaders in Congress say they believe manpower legislation is still possible despite the fact that the conference committee of the House and Senate faces an extremely difficult task in trying to adjust differences between two fundamentally different bills passed by the two Houses.

They are hoping for a compromise bill. A major feature of such a measure, they explain, undoubtedly will be a provision placing compulsion on both workers and employers, perhaps with criminal penalties.

The May-Bailey "work or jail" bill passed the House as a labor draft measure affecting men 18 to 45. It places compulsion only on male workers in these age limits who would be subject to draft dodger penalties for failure to obey work orders.

The Kilglen-O'Mahoney bill, passed by the Senate, places compulsion only on employers who would be subject to misdemeanor penalties for failure to obey War Manpower Commission manpower ceilings and hiring controls.

Despite the wide variance between the two bills, Democratic leadership believes a compromise can be worked out that would bring the gap between them and that the president would sign the compromise despite his strong insistence on a labor draft.

Salons Have Own Tax Worries

Members of congress had their own income tax troubles when March 15 rolled around. What most outsiders don't know is that a member of the House, for example, is not allowed to deduct as a business expense for income tax purposes the money he spends in traveling between his district and the capital.

Each member is allowed travel expenses for one trip each session between his home and Washington—in other words, to come to the capital and return once each year. But it does not begin to cover the expense of a busy congressman who may make half a dozen or more trips to his district, say in Michigan or Missouri.

Many members in big city districts find it necessary to maintain separate offices in their home towns to handle problems of their constituency at that end.

Despite the howls, Congress will go on paying the higher tax levy until it gets up enough nerve to revise the law. A salary increase which most students of Congress believe should come, also would ease the problem.

Override House On Philippines

The administration is expected to make an attempt to override the recommendation of the House appropriations committee that American civilian government not be restored by General MacArthur to the Philippine commonwealth government, but are still under the overall military command of American forces.

The United States high commissioners' office requested an initial $128,000 appropriation to facilitate the re-establishment of American civilian authority in the Philippines beginning April 1.

The appropriations committee of the House refused to grant the appropriation, however, and instead suggested that the military continue control until the Philippines are granted complete independence, July 4, 1946.

It was understood that the War Navy and Interior departments were preparing to ask President Roosevelt to appoint a new high commissioner to succeed Francis B. Sayre who resigned in 1942.

Friction is developing within the C. I. O. over the wage issue. Many of the lesser unions in the organization feel that the C. I. O. is not going to bat as strongly in their cases as it did in the big steel workers' union case.

C. I. O. President Philip Murray also leads the steelworkers and fought stoutly to obtain a $100,000 annual wage boost for the union through fringe adjustments.

Some of the other C. I. O. units, notably the electrical workers, now are afraid that the parent body will not exert the same pressure in pleading their cases before the War Labor Board and the Office of Economic Stabilization.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDLES

A few evenings ago we went to a buffet supper given by one of our neighbors, Mrs. Alvin Tuck, Jr., in honor of her husband who was home on a furlough.

We had just come back home from New York where we had seen a couple of shows one of them the much touted "On the Town," and heaven only knows what there is about a show for which to pay $5.40 a seat and where we had been thoroughly gipped at one of the "better restaurants"—and I can't begin to tell you what a relief that little buffet supper was to us.

The hosts and the guests were genuine New England people who don't go to New York very often but who know more of what is going on in the world than most of the subway-riding, apartment-dwelling New Yorkers.

There weren't any fancy dishes with high-sounding names. But there was home-cooked chicken and fresh peas and delicious salad and a lemon-meringue pie such as no New York chef has ever baked. And, lest I forget it there were hot biscuits that melted in your mouth and coffee as delicious as any you ever drank.

There was 86-year-old Mr. Williams, whose mind is as keen as a 30-year-old's, there was Mrs. Brush, who showed us pictures of her children and her grandchildren, there was Mr. Terry, the lumberman, and Mrs. Terry, and then there was the Rev. Robert H. Parkes and Mrs. Parkes.

And it is this Dr. Parkes about whom I want to tell you.

He is the Episcopalian minister in our little town.

When we first moved out here he called on us and asked us to join his church.

Well, my wife is a Presbyterian and I am a Lutheran, and we didn't quite feel like joining the Episcopalian church.

But just as a matter of courtesy, we decided to go to Dr. Parkes' church the coming Sunday.

Couldn't Get Away

We got up early, put on our best bib and tucker and were all set. When I went out to the old red barn to get the car, the door was stuck and I couldn't open it to save my neck. I tried, but the darn thing wouldn't move.

So I took it as an omen and we didn't go to Dr. Parkes' church then or at any other time.

But Parkes and I became good friends. We have argued about religion a lot. He respects my views and I respect his—and we both hope to go to heaven our separate ways.

The other evening at the Tucks, he told me that he had gone to work in a nearby war plant where they manufacture radar equipment.

He gets up at six every morning and makes the time clock at seven. He works until noon, and in the afternoon he lectures before churches and reads. In the evenings he calls on his parishioners and prepares his Sunday sermon or goes to meetings in his churches.

Notice I said "churches." After preaching here in Brookfield, he rushes over to Bridgewater, a mile village ten miles away, and holds services there.

I asked him why he does all that. I know it isn't for the money.

"Well," he said, "I think a pastor should know human beings not only as churchgoers but as workers."

Radiator Company Wins Another Gold Star For Production

Will Be Added To 'M' Pennants Already Flying Over National Radiator Plants

In recognition of continued production achievement Admiral H. L. Vickery, Commissioner of the United States Maritime Commission, and Chairman of its Board of Awards, advised The National Radiator Company that it had been awarded another Gold Star to be added to each of the "M" pennants now flying over the Company's Equipment Plant and General Office in Johnstown, and Lebanon and New Castle Plants. It was announced today by Robert S. Waters, President.

In addition to receiving another Gold Star for the "M" pennant, all employees added to the company rolls since August 4, 1944 will receive badges of production merit.

The local company has been producing a wide variety of cast iron, cast steel and fabricated steel manifold valves for Liberty and Victory ships, intercoastal and combat cargo vessels and tankers now carrying men and supplies to battlefronts throughout the world.

First Award Year Ago

The Radiator Company is the principal producer of manifolds for the commission and received the initial "M" award March 12, 1944, and the presentation was made at the New Castle plant on March 31, 1944 by Charles E. Walsh, Jr., Chairman of the Maritime Commission.

When production records are maintained or exceeded for each six months following the initial award a Gold Star is added to the "M" pennant in recognition of the achievement. In his letter Admiral Vickery stated: "In bringing to a conclusion the issuance of gold star awards as of March 31, 1945, you will please accept my sincere appreciation for your company's continuing contribution to merchant ship construction, and extend to all of your employees my warmest congratulations for the attainment of high goals in support of the valiant men of our Army, Navy and Merchant Marine."

Farm Community Meetings Planned

Several District Meetings Are Arranged In Lawrence County Later This Week

Three farm community meetings have been arranged for Lawrence County this week. County Agent L. C. Dayton, of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association, announced.

At these meetings, community programs will be projected and agricultural subjects will be discussed. The first of these will be on Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock at Westfield Grange Hall, for residents of the North Beaver community. The speakers will include Miss Lydia Terrant, and Joe Nageotte, of Penn State College Extension Department. Miss Terrant will speak on "Food for Thought" while Mr. Nageotte will discuss "Disease Control of the Dairy Herd."

On Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock, similar meetings will be held in Princeton high school, for residents of the Slippery Rock township district. An additional speaker at the latter two meetings will be Robert R. Copper, of State College. The addition to the speaking program, there will also be motion pictures and other entertainment.

Cosmo Members Enjoy Program

Ladies Night Party Planned By Organization To Be Held April 15

Cosmo club members enjoyed a stag program Tuesday evening at the Cosmo club rooms, North Mercer street, the entertainment of the evening being provided by Williams, the musician.

The meeting-program was opened by president, Maurice Levinson, followed by the salute to the flag, and a minute of silence observed for the departed members, and men in service.

The remainder of the evening was spent in watching magician Williams perform, and present his interesting tricks.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program, with the following committee in charge: James Meyers, chairman, and his assistants, Dr. H. I. Botwin, Robert Pickel, Paul Levine, Ben Finkel, Ted Martin and Charles Maierston.

April 15 is the date for the next party to be held for the wives of the Cosmo members.

Military Rites For Capt. Frank

Local Dentist, Who Died In Pacific Area, Is Buried With Military Honors Tuesday

Military honors were accorded Capt. Meyer M. Frank, well known local dentist, and son of Mrs. David Frank, of East Lincoln avenue, by his comrades, members of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, of which he has been a member since the close of World War One, on Tuesday afternoon when he was laid to rest in the Titareth Israel cemetery.

Funeral services were conducted from the R. L. Boyd Funeral Home, in charge of Rabbi Hyman Krash, spiritual leader of Titareth Israel Synagogue, assisted by Rabbi Julian Shapiro, formerly of Titareth Israel. Brief services followed in the chapel at the cemetery.

Capt. Frank's popularity was attested by the great number of friends who gathered with the family to mourn his loss, many coming from a distance. Capt. Frank, it will be recalled, died enroute to the United States from the Pacific area, where he was taken ill with a tropical ailment several months ago, passing away before he reached this country.

The ritualistic service of the American Legion was conducted at the cemetery by Commander Lee R. Hanna, of Perry S. Gaston Post, assisted by Charles E. Allen, as chaplain. Serving as pallbearers were: Charles B. Book, A. Lewis Conn, Fred C. Duff, Charles E. Allen, C. C. Sweeney, and Lee R. Hanna, with Walter G. Dietterle, C. G. Walker, Harry Bollinger, and Clarence S. Jarrett, as color bearers and guards. Fred Duff, Jr., was bugler, and sounded taps at the conclusion of the service.

Final Y.W.C.A. Report Tomorrow

Workers To Report Pledges At Final Meeting; Strive For 1580 Members, $2200

Final report meeting of the membership ingathering for the Y. W. C. A. will be held Thursday morning at 11:30 when memberships paid in full as well as pledges will be counted.

Teams have reported a total of 1105 members and over $1600, are hopeful of increasing the total membership another 500 and of reporting $600 more in pledges to go over the goal of last year's total.

Reports to date show 118 new members, 22 of that number from the Elm street branch.

Mrs. James Moorehead, membership chairman, today urged all captains and team workers to turn in complete reports at Thursday's meeting so that the final report can be given. She suggests that reports be turned in at the Y. W. C. A. office if workers are unable to attend the meeting.

Workers of the Highland U. P. church, Mrs. F. L. Thompson chairman, will take sandwiches for the report luncheon. Miss Lillian Harman of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

will make the tea and coffee as she has done for the previous three report meetings.

Workers have tried very hard to contact all Y. W. C. A. members, according to Mrs. Moorehead, but due to gasoline rationing in some cases they may not have been able to make repeat calls and in such cases if a member will take or send her membership to the Y. W. C. A. office her cooperation will be much appreciated.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

hions, post-war make-work programs for more billions. Besides this, the prospects are for more and more billions for pensions and veterans' relief and aid.

Thus far there has been no enthusiasm over any proposals to effect economies in government nor any indications that public payrolls will be cut for several years after the war. In fact, anyone who ventures to question the Rooseveltian idea that the more we spend the more prosperous we will be in decided as an old-fashioned heretic and an enemy of the "common man."

It is amazing that literate citizens fail to realize—or do not seem to care if they do realize—that our huge national debt and our unprecedented expenditures all must be paid for in cash taken from the pockets of the people. It is the full statement in 1932 of Candidate Roosevelt, that "taxes come from the sweat and labor of the people." It is equally surprising that new individuals ever stop to think that a gargantuan national debt is one of the surest incentives to inflation. If half the credit now available to the banks were used as a basis for legal currency issues we should have such a flood of money that the dollar would be depreciated far below the danger point.

The war, of course, must take the principal blame for our care-free thinking in terms of billions. But the sooner we wake up, as a people, to the fact that limitless deficit spending ultimately must lead to inflation, bankruptcy and repudiation, the better off we shall be.

FIGHTER PILOT SURVIVES DROP OF 11,000 FEET

By MICHAEL CHINIGO
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME.—An 11,000-foot plunge from a P-47 Thunderbolt right into enemy lines, where a Yank searching party retrieved him "only slightly shocked and bruised of body," gave fighter-pilot Lieut. Harold J. Ingley, of Modesto, Cal., what he calls "religion."

Today, resting comfortably on white sheets and fretting because he isn't back in combat, the young Californian credits "some kind of prayer—what I don't even know" with sparing him from "what should have been certain death."

On Fourth Combat Mission
"I was flying my fourth combat mission and it was a patrol over southern France," Ingley prefaced his own story of the parachute-failed-to-open accident, "and I was tired from the constant strain of formation flying."

"First thing I knew I was suffering from vertigo and flying upside down. The altimeter showed 11,000 feet."

"Tremendous air pressure glued me tight to my seat and I had to fight savagely to 'clear' the plunging aircraft."

"I pulled the ripcord. The customary jerk wasn't there."

"I glanced up. The chute hadn't opened but was trailing above me like a long piece of confetti."

Says Prayer, Chute Opens
"I tried to pull the shoulder lines—but nothing doing."

"I tried to spin around—that turned out to be impossible."

"Then I said some kind of prayer—What, I don't know—and closed my eyes."

"There was a terrific jar—and that's the last I remember until I awoke in the water, freezing, some time later."

Members of a searching party had to comb a lagoon for several hours before they reached him.

They shouted at regular intervals and were about to give up when they thought they heard a faint cry.

I'm The Pilot!
They turned their raft in the direction from which the sound had come, one of the party yelling:

"Have you seen the pilot?"

"Seen the pilot? Hell, I am the pilot," came the last reply.

From his hospital bed Ingley willingly displayed the "damage"—a few bruises on his arms showing slightly his deep tan.

He explained he'd been overseas less than two months and that already he'd realized he was living on "borrowed time."

"I might as well borrow some more and use it where it'll do the most good," he reasoned but with a wink added, as an afterthought:

"I hope, however, I don't have a repeat performance."

YOUTHFUL GANG DAMAGES PROPERTY
Janitor of the First Christian church reported to city police last night that a youthful gang had caused some damage to the church grounds. He said he did not know the names of the boys. In speaking of the affair today Police Chief Robert D. Hanna said he would insist on not only youths but everyone else respecting the property of other persons.

Chaos In Nazi Forces And Cities Is Now Feared

LONDON, March 28.—(INS)—Informed quarters in London believed today that the end of the war in Germany probably will result in complete chaos of German troops and the civilian populations of big cities.

For this reason, it was thought, allied forces east of the Rhine are advancing with utmost speed to prevent any outbreak of anarchy.

It was understood that Prime Minister Winston Churchill has told the British war cabinet that the end of the war now is in sight.

From now on, members of the war cabinet will remain within easy reach of government offices to be on hand at the moment of Germany's collapse. Most of the ministers therefore are staying in London during the Easter period.

There was great excitement throughout service departments and in Whitehall as news of widespread allied advances east of the Rhine was reported.

Britain And U. S. To Make Joint Survey Of Food

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(INS)—The state department disclosed today that the United States and Great Britain will undertake a joint survey of the food situation in order to meet essential needs of the war to the fullest possible extent.

The announcement was made jointly by the United States and Great Britain upon the arrival in this country of two British government officials, Oliver Lyttelton, a member of the British war cabinet, and J. J. Llewellyn, minister of food.

German Report Says Yanks In Area Of Minden

LONDON, March 28.—(INS)—The German home radio chain broke into a scheduled program this afternoon to report that British tank spearheads were in the area of Minden, less than 200 miles from Berlin.

The announced claimed the armored columns were held there by the Nazi defense lines.

Minden is approximately 110 miles northeast of captured Wesel.

GERMAN MAYOR SLAIN

Admiral Halsey Is Recuperating; Wants To Go Back

Has "Unfinished Business," He Tells 4,000 Naval Workers In Pennsylvania

By TONY ZECCA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., who is recuperating from his wounds, is expected to return to the Philippines to command the Third Fleet in the Pacific, he said today.

The four-star admiral, who is recovering from his wounds, is expected to return to the Philippines to command the Third Fleet in the Pacific, he said today.

Ready Since He Left
And with a twinkle beneath his bushy brows he added: "I'm feeling pretty good. In fact I've been all set to go back since I left."

The fighting admiral held a brief press conference before addressing approximately 4,000 workers of the Philadelphia Naval Supply Depot, where his former supply officer, the "Enterprise," Capt. Charles W. Fox, is preparing to leave to take a new assignment commanding the new naval supply depot at Mechanicsburg, Pa.

Admiral Halsey cautioned the workers that "things are pretty grim out there at times, and when some men are dying, it might be because someone else hasn't done his job."

He urged the employees to keep backing the war effort strongly "so that when the time comes, we can deliver the final blow and be happy ever after."

The admiral had no qualms about how to defeat the sons of heaven. "It doesn't make much difference; we'll get them one way or another," he declared. "They're just plain rats that you have to dig out of their holes."

Leaning back on a desk he gazed into space and commented that he still would like to ride the emperor's white horse to the emperor's breakfast table.

With his typical wit, Adm. Halsey commented that the American ammunition supply has been going pretty well when we get anything to shoot at.

In a similar vein, when speaking on the merits of the Jap ships, he remarked crisply that "they can do awful fancy maneuvers." He added quickly that "they can't shoot as well" as Uncle Sam's battle wagons. "The quality of Jap pilots is deteriorating day by day," Halsey said. "They're getting some new ones but we can shoot them down just as well."

He reiterated his classic description that "a good Jap is one who has been dead for six months and stopped smelling."

Although he would not comment on the use of the British navy to fight Japan after Germany's defeat, he declared that "there's room for all the navies in the world. I don't give a damn who licks the Japs."

Pfc. Fred H. Teece Given Purple Heart

Pfc. Fred H. Teece, who was wounded somewhere in Germany on February 27, has been awarded the Purple Heart and has sent it home to his wife, Mrs. Alice Teece of 313 Sampson street.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Teece of Hart street, R. D. 2, Pfc. Teece has been serving overseas with a field artillery unit since last November. He was leading his half-track along a road in Germany when the front wheel struck a land mine and the resulting explosion blew sand and gravel in the soldier's face and eyes.

Pfc. Teece is now being hospitalized somewhere in France, and counts himself "very lucky."

Navy Abandons Building Plans

Navy Will Abandon Plans For Building 72 Of 84 Combat Ships, Announced

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(INS)—The Navy announced that it has abandoned plans for the construction of 72 of 84 combat ships which were announced early this month and in view of unexpectedly light losses in the Pacific war will build only 12 escort carriers.

This additional shipbuilding program the announcement said, was originally planned as an "insurance" program to meet the possibility of heavy attrition as American forces advanced closer to Japan.

It was estimated that, if at the end of six months the progress of the war indicated that no additional ships would be needed, the program could be abandoned at an expenditure of about 30 million dollars.

The department has now been informed, however, that the manpower and material situations necessitate suspension of plans for the construction of all 84 of the ships. Under the revised program only 150,000 tons will be constructed as against 636,860 originally contemplated.

Good Friday Service At First Church

Ministers Will Give Meditations On 'The Seven Last Words From The Cross'

Good Friday Three Hour service will be held from noon to 3 p. m. at the First Presbyterian church, North Jefferson street at East Falls street.

Meditations on "The Seven Last Words From the Cross" will be given by Rev. George R. D. Braun of Epworth Methodist church, Dr. D. L. Ferguson of Highland U. P. church, Dr. Burr R. McKnight, of the First Methodist church, Dr. G. S. Bennett of the First Christian church, Rev. U. S. Munierlyn of the Second Baptist church, Rev. Oliver W. Hurst of the First Baptist church, and Rev. J. Calvin Rose of the Second U. P. church.

This service is sponsored by the New Castle Ministerial Association, and is for the public.

Organ music will be played by Garth Edmundson, organist of the First Presbyterian church. Vocal music will be in charge of Mrs. Lillian Butcher Stambaugh and Mrs. James A. Rugh.

Explain Injuries To Children Before Return Of Veteran

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 28.—An honest, straightforward explanation is the best way to prepare children for the return of maimed war veterans, parents were advised today by a Pennsylvania State college psychologist.

To avoid shocking the children and embarrassing the veteran, Dr. Bruce V. Moore urges adults to describe in advance the nature of the soldier's injury and how it was incurred.

The best approach, he believes, is to explain the reasons for the injury in terms of the child's own life. "This soldier lost his leg in the war so we can continue to live peacefully, have plenty to eat and go to a church of our own choosing."

Because children can sense an emotionally tense attitude, it is important for adults to maintain their poise, Dr. Moore said. If the veteran is nervous and easily tired, children should not be permitted to spend a lot of time with him, he added.

Pennsylvania To Get New Engines On Western Roads

Fifty powerful multi-cylinder steam locomotives, capable of pulling full length passenger trains at speeds up to 100 miles per hour, and freight trains on fast schedules, have been placed on order by the Pennsylvania railroad, Leroy Simcoke, chief clerk of the E. and A. division, announced today.

These new locomotives will go into service this year in this section of the Pennsylvania's territory, west of Harrisburg, to ease the wartime strain on the road, Mr. Simcoke said. The "T1" engine is the fourth new type of coal burning steam locomotive to be announced recently by the Pennsylvania.

This engine, which is completely streamlined, will be about 123 feet long, 15½ feet high, and will weigh 930,200 pounds in working order. Its tender will carry 41 tons of coal and 19,500 gallons of water.

Illiterates in Mexico constitute 45.7 per cent of the population, according to official estimates.

Deshon Annex Veteran Recalls Near Fatal Jump

Originally membership in the Caterpillars club was for airplane pilots who had to bail out when their plane was in trouble. If they got up and walked away after their drop, they were eligible.

In this war there is a branch of "Caterpillars" composed of paratroopers who have had to use their reserve parachutes and lived to tell about it. You don't find many of them for only in unusual circumstances does an American paratrooper have to resort to his reserve parachute which is strapped to his stomach.

Meet Louis Pisone

There is a full fledged member of the Caterpillars at Deshon annex just now and he won his honor the hard way. We give you Pvt. Louis Pisone, home address lower East Side, New York City, member of the original paratroop regiment of the United States army and a veteran of jumps in Sicily, Italy and St. Lo, France. It was at St. Lo he became eligible for the Caterpillars.

The ground troops had been held back at St. Lo for longer than the commanders liked. Something had to be done and he was decided to send over paratroopers back of the German lines. Pvt. Pisone was one of those selected.

Going over the lines the German flak was heavy and the order came to break formation just as the paratroopers in Pvt. Pisone's group were jumping. He was the last man out of the plane and as he floated down towards the French country side he landed on another American plane. His parachute was ripped off and he started for the ground without the benefit of silk. He was injured but conscious and had presence of mind enough to pull the cord on his reserve parachute.

Rescued By Frenchman

He landed all right but couldn't move. He was numb and paralyzed but still conscious. After a while a Frenchman came along and carried him into his home. Inside the Frenchman took Pisone's uniform and shoes and burned them and replaced them on a chair with some French farm clothes. Then he put splints on Pisone's neck which was badly injured.

For three days he laid in the Frenchman's bed, unable to move but still remaining conscious. The Frenchman brought him his meals and made Pisone understand he was one of the French underground. Germans visited the home of the Frenchman and to questions by them concerning Pisone, the Frenchman explained he was a French farm boy and had been injured by a bomb explosion. He explained that Pisone couldn't talk.

After three days the Frenchman got Pisone to the American lines which by this time had moved up. In the American field hospital it was discovered that Pisone's neck was broken; two of the vertebrae being cracked.

His jumping days are over but the magic of the American surgeons and a strong constitution has healed the breaks. Pvt. Pisone isn't quite the rugged individual he was the day he jumped at St. Lo but he's coming along beautifully.

He still claims the parachute troops are the cream of the army.

SPOTLIGHT Of Today

(International News Service)

HITLER'S 'HIDEOUT'

With the Wehrmacht "whipped"—disorganized and fleeing—allied military leaders studied with serious consideration today the Nazi boast that a "rational redoubt" has been organized in the Bavarian Alps for a last-ditch stand.

As allied tank columns broke free and fast into northern and central Germany, it appeared that Hitler could only hope to preserve a semblance of his state in the south where the Alps and swift rivers make military operations difficult.

And here, probably by coincidence but possibly by some strain of intuition in Hitler's fantastic mind, lies the fuhrer's favorite country, his birthplace, the mountain Eyrie he calls his home, his best loved city in the area embraced by southern Bavaria and the Tyrol are situated Berchtesgaden and Munich, and a host of other places which the Austrian house painter has had close and early ties.

Centered near the greatest of Europe's mountains, almost all of Bavaria is more than 1,000 feet above sea level with ridges rising to 10,000 feet. The triangle between Munich, Salzburg and Innsbruck is even higher and full of terrain which would give fanatical Nazi SS troops every defensive advantage.

The legend that Hitler—if he failed—would retire to the Alps and destroy himself in a spectacular Wagnerian finale is an old one. He is failing now—fast—and it may come true.

Walmo P.T.A. Has Net, Needs Court

Walmo P.T.A. Hopes To Add Tennis Court To Walmo School Playground Facilities

Work begun a year ago on the playground at Walmo school by Walmo P. T. A. will be continued and enlarged this season, according to present plans, and in addition, some equipment that got hard use last season will need to be repaired and replaced.

Now that it is spring again, a new play season for the children of Walmo school has opened, and the playground committee of Walmo P. T. A. W. A. Foht, chairman, hopes not only to continue, but to expand the recreational facilities at the school.

At present the committee's main concern is to get a tennis court, preferably an asphalt one, laid out. Their inspiration to go ahead with a tennis court came from the gift of a tennis net.

Expansion of the playground was begun last year when Walmo residents distributed to a special fund to purchase playground equipment. As there is less than $15 in the fund at the present time, a committee spokesman said, the kitty needs a heavy meal before work can be started on a real piece of work like an asphalt tennis court.

Anyone who wants to lend a helping hand to get the work under way by giving a donation to the fund should see Mr. Foht or a member of his committee.

Pittsburgher Faces 47-Year Sentence

PITTSBURGH, March 28.—(INS)—Albert Carelli, 40, who was head of a gang of hoodlums known as the "Blue Bandanna Gang" 20 years ago, today faced a possible sentence of 47 years in prison for parole violation.

Carelli was on parole for a series of robberies which preceded his conviction of the murder of a bartender for which he was sentenced to the electric chair in 1925.

Following a full pardon by Gov. Gifford Pinchot the same year, Carelli began serving a suspended sentence of 28 to 59 years for robberies. He was paroled in 1938 and apparently behaved himself until January 11, when he was arrested on a charge of stealing automobile tires.

PROWLER NOT ASLEEP
PITTSBURGH, March 28.—(INS)—A bold prowler today has a new watch, $15 in cash and plenty of gasoline coupons, according to Walter J. Manning of Pittsburgh, who told police the property was stolen from his automobile while he slept in the car.

The ration form, good for 155 gallons of gasoline, belonged to his employer, Manning said.

Catholic Churches To Have Impressive Services,
Thursday, Friday
And Saturday

SERVICES TO CLOSE ON EASTER SUNDAY

Holy Week the final week of the Lenten season is being observed by Catholics this week, and appropriate services are being conducted in the Roman Catholic churches of the city.

On Holy Thursday the church commemorates the Last Supper at which our Lord instituted the Sacraments of the Holy Eucharist and Holy Orders. Only one mass may be offered in each Catholic church on this day.

On Good Friday, the church commemorates the passion and death of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. This is the most sad and solemn of all the days in Holy Week. Robes of mourning are used, and it is a day of fast and abstinence.

Lent will close at noon on Holy Saturday. Easter masses will be celebrated Sunday morning in all the Catholic churches, the time to be listed below together with the other services of Holy Week.

Carnegie-Illinois Garden Goal 50,000

PITTSBURGH, March 28.—For the third consecutive year thousands of victory gardeners of Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation are getting out their spades and hoes in preparation for what is hoped to be a record season. The goal is 50,000 gardens and a crop of extra food worth $1,500,000.

The new campaign for privately raised vegetables is sponsored by the war production drive committees in the plants of this U. S. Steel subsidiary and, as in the past, at many of the plants company ground will be allotted to the steelworkers. In these plots the ground will be plowed by the company, and lime and fertilizer will be furnished whenever feasible.

Last year's estimated value of crops was over $1,000,000 based on market prices at harvest time.

Sledding Accidents Spoil Improvement In Traffic Record

HARRISBURG, March 28.—Good and bad records were set for the months of November, December and January of this winter, according to the report from the Bureau of Highway Safety.

Altogether, 71 fewer persons lost their lives in traffic accidents during November and December, 1944, and January, 1945, than during November and December, 1943, and January, 1944, the report shows.

Sledding statistics are a different story, however. Twenty-eight sledders were killed in January and February, 1945, whereas only five were killed during the same period of 1944. The ages of those who lost their lives were from three to 17 years, and 23 of them were under 16.

A few of the causes for the many pedestrian accidents, which are still the largest category, are listed as: crossing between intersections, crossing from behind parked cars, and, in one case, running after a bus in an attempt to board it.

So far, Lawrence county's record is very good, with no accidents at all for the month of January—a decrease of one since last year. The total 1944 record for the county was a decrease from the 1942 and 1943 records also. In both 1942 and 1943 the total number of traffic fatalities was 12, of which six were pedestrian deaths. In 1944 the total was 10, with only three pedestrian deaths.

Garden Notes

The energy value vitamins and minerals in vegetables are taken from the soil in which they grow. As most Victory garden soils are apt to be deficient in these essentials, it is advisable to enrich the soil by the use of manure or a commercial plant food.

Victory garden seed left over from last year should not be planted until first tested for vitality. The cost of seed is small in comparison with the loss of time, disappointment and labor connected with sowing and after care.

Victory gardeners this year can obtain fertilizer of the same ratio as last year's, or 4-12-4. When quantities of less than 80 pounds are purchased dealers may furnish only that marked "Victory Garden Fertilizer for Food Production Only."

The green, leafy vegetables are considered the most important group for the Victory gardener. Such vegetables can be started early, while the soil is still cool, and by succession planting be available until freezing weather arrives. These vegetables include chard, collards, kale, turnips, lettuce and other greens.

The Victory vegetable garden to be really complete should have a small patch of herbs. Many kitchen herbs are annuals and can easily be grown from seed.

Pearl street, in New York City, is claimed to be the only street in the world which runs north, east, south and west.

Postwar Period In U. S. To Demand Real Leadership

German Diplomat Reaches Stockholm

LONDON, March 28.—(INE)—Dr. Heinrich Schnurre, Nazi agent of Joachim Von Ribbentrop who arranged the German-Soviet pact in 1939, has arrived in Stockholm for what diplomats believe is a plan to appeal for peace along the unsuccessful lines of Rudolf Hess' attempt in Britain. The London Daily Express reported today in a dispatch from Sweden.

Known as "suicide Schnurre" following his attempt to kill himself in Gothenburg after his failure to win the battle last year to get Swedish ball bearings, Schnurre long has been known as Adolf Hitler's "number one" trade bargainer.

Arrest Man Near Neshannock Falls

MERCER, March 28.—After being sought since October, 1943, Paul Reed, formerly of 52 Mill street, Wheatland, more recently of R. D. Volant, was arrested yesterday afternoon by members of the Mercer Barracks of the State Police near Neshannock Falls, and brought to Mercer for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Thomas McClain. In 1943 Reed was employed by the Coca Cola Company of Farrell, as a driver, and is alleged to have confiscated three checks from customers. A hearing was set for Saturday, March 31. Bail was fixed at $1,000.

Mercer Sergeant Now Reported Dead

MERCER, March 28.—Mrs. Mary Stowe McClelland, North Pitt street, Mercer, received a message from the war department informing her that her husband, Sgt. Richard R. McClelland, aged 27, had been killed in action in Belgium. On January 22 she had received a message from the department stating that her husband had been missing in action in Belgium since December 22, 1944. Since that time it had been hoped that he was among those taken by the Germans as a prisoner of war.

Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia says the food wasted by New Yorkers daily would feed a European city of 300,000.

IT'S THE 11-TON "VOLCANO"

ONE OF THE NEWLY-FILLED 22,000-pound bombs is maneuvered by pulleys, above, in a British factory, almost dwarfing the man who guides it. The 11-ton bomb, first cast by the English Steel corporation in Sheffield and now also being manufactured in the United States and shipped to Britain, is dubbed the "volcano," for in its first trial test it literally destroyed a small granite island off the British coast. ## Negro Girl And Two Accomplices Must Die In Chair

COLUMBUS, O., March 28.—(INS)—Johnnie Mae Gardner, 20-year-old Cincinnati negro girl, and her two male accomplices must die in Ohio's electric chair April 6 for the hammer-throwing slaying of a Cincinnati jeweler, Gov. Frank J. Lausche decreed today.

The governor previously had granted the trio a 30-day reprieve while the state parole commission considered the case. However, the commission recommended against clemency.

The woman's two accomplices are James Willie Brown and James "Cook" Jenkins, also negroes. Miss Gardner will be the second woman to die in Ohio's electric chair. The first, Annie Marie Hahn, also was from Cincinnati.

Easter Cantata At Shenango High

Seventy Voices Will Take Part In
Two Presentations Of Easter
Music At School

Making use of a wide selection of the great music which has been composed for the Easter season, Shenango high school students are presenting an Easter cantata on Thursday afternoon for the lower grades and on Friday for the junior and senior high school grades of the school.

Under the direction of Chester Kyle, music supervisor, the chorus is made up of 70 voices from two eighth grade classes, supplemented by members of the freshmen-sophomore chorus. The program is as follows:

The Easter story, from the book of Matthew, read by Lois McElrath; "All in the April Evening", sung by Mr. Kyle; two numbers, "In the Garden" and "Love Led Him to Calvary", by a quartet made up of Marlin Shaffer, Carl Granato, Anthony Sorbo and George Tervo; and "Open the Gates", by Catherine Sager.

Taking part in "The Resurrection Story", an Easter cantata by Roy E. Nolte, are: Harold Brewer, baritone; Gertrude Moore, mezzo-soprano; Harvey Brown, baritone; Dick Pellini, tenor; Frank Boher, tenor; Walter Zuratsky, tenor; Ralph Bogle, baritone, and the chorus.

Julia Toth, soprano, and Vincent Bruno, baritone, will sing "As It Began To Dawn", and will be followed by Ruth Tanner, soprano, and the chorus singing "Come, See the Place". "Alleluia, Christ Is King!" will be sung by the girls of the chorus, and "Whoever Believest" will be by Doris Newman, soprano, and the chorus. The whole group will join in the closing number, "Now Is Christ Risen".

Ann Paton will be at the piano for the opening numbers, while the accompanists for the cantata will be Doris Glasser, Lew Matthews and Ruth Tanner.

Five New National Cemeteries Proposed For Pennsylvania

Legislation Now In Congress Awaiting Approval Provides For Their Establishment

By CAPT. ARTHUR WIMER
(Washington Correspondent of The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28.—Five new national cemeteries would be established in Pennsylvania under legislation now awaiting congressional approval.

The War department has recommended that the burial grounds be at the following locations: Pittsburgh area, 100,000 graves; Harrisburg area, 75,000 graves; Franklin, 25,000 graves; Philadelphia area, 150,000 graves; and Tunkhannock, 75,000 graves.

The Keystone state now has two national cemeteries but there is little available space in either. The national cemetery at Philadelphia has no available grave sites. The Gettysburg National cemetery has 2,400 sites unused but these are being reserved and therefore will not be available for demands arising from the present war.

The War department estimates that 1,298,228 veterans and registrants of Pennsylvania are or may become eligible for burial in national cemeteries. These are classified as: Spanish War veterans, 9,316; World War I veterans, 287,359; registrants of World War II, 1,601,553. The department believes, however, that of this aggregate, only 216,284 veterans will actually be buried in national cemeteries. The department calculates that 173,027 wives and widows of veterans will likewise be buried in national cemeteries of the state, bringing the total estimated burials to 388,726.

To meet these requirements, at least five new cemeteries in the state will be required, the War department feels. The cemetery recommended for the Pittsburgh area would serve New Castle.

Central Inspection Station Set Up To Check Truck Tires

Because the critical truck tire situation demands immediate action if all essential trucks are to be kept working, a central truck tire inspection station will be in operation in Lawrence county beginning April 1, to make sure that no truck tire is removed from service if it can be repaired, recapped, or in any way kept in service, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

All official truck tire inspection stations located in Lawrence county now operating under both the New Castle and Ellwood City boards will be governed by the new regulations when applications are made for tire replacements. The applications must be filled out by the applicant and signed by an official tire inspection station, showing the condition of the tire to be replaced.

The completed application form and the old tire are then to be taken to the Central Truck Tire Inspection Station at the W. Henry Rodgers garage, 127 North Beaver street, where they will be reinspected.

All official truck inspection operators are attending a meeting in the rationing office on Pearson street Monday evening, April 2, at 7:30, when a representative from the district office will explain the regulations in connection with the new set-up.

Submarine Albacore Is Believed Lost

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(INS)—The navy announced Tuesday that the submarine Albacore is overdue from patrol and presumed lost with its crew. Normal complement of a submarine is 65 men and officers.

The second submarine loss to be announced within a week, destruction of the Albacore brings the total of American submarine loss from all causes since the beginning of the war 41.

The skipper of the Albacore was Lt. Comdr. Hugh R. Rimmer, a native of San Francisco, Calif., and graduate of the Naval Academy.

Rimmer has been attached to the submarine service since 1940 and served on the Bullfinch, the Bass and the Taugot before he assumed command of the Albacore. His wife, Mrs. Dorothy R. Rimmer, lives at 9 Normandy Lane, Manhasset, L. I. N. Y.

Accuse Slaughterers In OPA Violations

PITTSBURGH, March 28.—(INS)—Nine veteran western Pennsylvanian slaughterers were charged by the OPA in the United States court today with violations in the grading and pricing of meat and failure to keep proper records.

The charges resulted, a spokesman said, from a survey conducted to determine whether slaughterers were complying with the law.

Injunctions were sought against: Edwin J. Brown and R. E. Bower, Fredonia; Edwin Freeland, Greenville; P. E. Bartholomew, Mercer; Dan Kirschenbaum, Michael Ciccarone and Peter Grande, Jr., all of Farrell; C. H. Baughman, Shippensburg; and Clemons Jackson, Turkey City.

Farmers Are Against Easing Restrictions On Margarine Sales

HARRISBURG, March 28.—(INS)—Representatives of the Pennsylvania State Grange appeared before the House Dairy committee today to protest legislation proposing to ease restrictions on oleomargarine sales.

In a statement released prior to the hearings in the state capital, the grange claimed there was an increasing margarine scarcity due to strict Federal regulations.

"According to reports from various parts of the state, butter is becoming more plentiful while oleomargarine is getting scarcer," said Secretary Joab K. Mahood. "The growing scarcity of oleomargarine is due to the Federal restrictions on vegetable oils and fats allocated to oleomargarine manufacturers."

In addition, if the legislature approves the bill permitting the sale of yellow-colored oleo, the Federal government would exact a tax of 10 cents per pound," he added.

Bills slated discussed proposed the reduction or elimination of retail and other license fees as well as permitting manufacturers to color oleomargarine.

Metal telephone poles are used in South Africa because the white ants eat wooden ones."

Let's raid the icebox...Have a Coca-Cola

...a w... make a party an added success

At home, the good things of life come from the kitchen. And one of the good things is ice-cold Coca-Cola in the icebox. Have a Coke are words that make the kitchen the center of attraction for the teen-age set. For Coca-Cola never loses the freshness of its appeal, nor its unfailing refreshment. No wonder Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes from Maine to California,—has become a symbol of happy, refreshing times together everywhere.

Lieutenant Sends Dried Orchids Home To Wife

WITH AN AMERICAN INFANTRY DIVISION SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC—(INS)—The G. I. knows all about dehydrated eggs, milk and potatoes, but whoever heard of sending a girl dehydrated flowers for an anniversary gift?

Lt. Donald P. Berry, a graduate of the University of New Hampshire and of New York University, did it. As a matter of fact, the lieutenant, who has no degree in botany, dehydrated the flowers himself.

Lt. Berry found two tiny orchids along a jungle trail and thought it would be a fine idea to send them to his wife, Mrs. Mildred P. Berry, for their wedding anniversary.

After creating with them an original greeting card the jungle Burbank dispatched them in an airmail envelope.

"The pressed orchids in the card are of a rare miniature variety," the note of enclosure read, "even though dehydrated flowers are a decided departure from established custom."

Lt. and Mrs. Berry live at 11 Ashbur avenue, Lynbrook, Long Island, N. Y.

Hampden Leaves His Hamlet For Comedy

NEW YORK — (INS)—Turning from the capes, swords and sonorous cadence passages of the classics to the bright lines of a modern comedy, Walter Hampden, one of America's foremost actors, plays the central role in the comedy, "And Be My Love," which opened on Broadway recently.

Nine comedians out of ten would give their best gag writer for a chance to play Hamlet. But here is a former Hamlet doing theatrical quick change and turning up in a comedy role.

Hampden, renowned for his Cyrano and hundreds of other roles definitely on the classical side, accomplished this dramatic about face when he agreed to appear in the new Edward Galt comedy which Arthur J. Bachard is producing in association with Victor Hugo-Vidal.

Side saddles for women were first used in England by Queen Anne in 1388.

Nazis Foiled In Attempt To Debase British Currency

By DOREEN DIPPER
(N. Y. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON—An all-out effort on the part of Germany to debase English currency has been foiled by the "back room boys" of the Bank of England.

Shrewd German agents are even now, flooding neutral countries with forged Bank of England notes. Some of these notes, produced for evidence in a recent London court case, were said to be highly skillful forgeries.

Germany is believed to be employing as its forgers, a gang of men who were arrested and jailed there in 1926 for the forgery of English and other notes.

Around that time, the world's most expert forgers were Germans, probably because of the fact that the beginning of inflation, 30,000 men were initiated into the art of bank note production.

The technical skill of the German forgers, however, didn't fool the chemists and analysts of the Bank of England. There was no difficulty in tracing the flood of forged notes back to Germany.

Naval Fliers Spot Axis Planes

Must Determine In Split Second When To Put Guns In Action

By JOHN R. HENRY
(N. Y. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD AN AIRCRAFT CARRIER, with the Pacific Fleet, March 28—Sky fighters must determine in a split second when to pull the trigger, so navy and marine aviators aboard this aircraft carrier today are receiving a new type of training enabling them to identify planes and ships.

They are learning how to tell in a jiffy, if an approaching plane is a "Zeke" or a "Betty" or a friendly one, and if the ships they spot on the surface below are Japanese or American.

Speed Is Keynote
Speed is the keynote of their classes in recognition.

"A split second may mean life or death for these fellows," explained Lieut. N. D. Turner, of 944 East 44th street, Chicago, who is their teacher. "It is not difficult at all to identify a plane if you have time to think what type of wings, engine, fuselage and tail it has, but this thinking process must be automatic with our pilots."

Turner uses the navy's new visual acuity method in sharpening the pilots' ability to identify ships and planes.

Visual acuity training is based on constant practice before a screen on which is projected the silhouettes and pictures of various types of craft.

Turner begins the course by showing the pilots silhouettes of different aircraft and describing in detail the characteristics of each. He then shows pictures of the planes in flight. Some of these are close range shots, others long range, and the photographs are made from all angles.

The projection machine employed for showing these pictures carries a special lens designed to give the pictures clarity and also to simulate various conditions under which the planes would be met, such as dawn, dusk, in sun spots, clouds and foul weather.

Lieutenant Turner lets each picture stay on the screen for several minutes during the first showing. He lectures on the physical appearance of each plane.

Pace Grows Faster
The next showing is somewhat faster. The fliers, by that time, know the code names for various types of enemy planes. They know, for instance, that "Zeke" is a Japanese Zero, and that "Betty" is an enemy bomber. They know, also, the cut of the enemy fighter's wings and the shape of the Mitsubishi bomber's tail.

Their first test comes, however, when blank sheets of paper are distributed to the class and they are told to write the names of the planes as they are projected on the screen. Each picture is permitted to remain on the screen for one-twenty-fifth of a second.

The pace grows faster and faster, with each class, until the final test comes when the pictures are flashed on the screen and the class must determine in one-seventh of a second whether the image is that of an enemy or Allied plane. The pictures are shown so that a plane sometimes is seen only in a half light of dawn or so that it is simply a silhouette speck in an almost blinding sun spot. The course of study takes about 20 sessions.

GI's Use Broomsticks For Croquet Mallets

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC—(INS)—"How about a game of croquet?" one husky G. I. truck driver called out to his buddies.

These veterans of Pacific campaigns are now knocking their way through a maze of hoops after mess, each day, thanks to Pvt. Harold E. Kuhl of Eugene, Ore.

Kuhl, a mallet enthusiast before going into the army, decided one day to make croquet equipment so the boys would have something to do.

Hewing croquet balls out of teak—the hardest wood in the world—was one of the toughest jobs. Old broomsticks were used for mallets, and portions of tentpoles for mallet heads. Bailing wire made the hoops which he painted in bright colors.

Odds against four perfect hands being dealt at a bridge table are 158,000,000 to one.

Jap Finds Pistol Is No Match For Rifle

ARMY AIR FORCES, PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS—(INS)—How a Jap pilot parachuted from his disabled Zero at an altitude of 250 feet, landed on a 7th AAF airstrip and began firing at American soldiers with a pistol was told today by Staff Sergeant Carroll W. Welch of Macomb, Illinois.

Sergeant Welch was in the control tower beside an airstrip in the Marianas at the time. The Jap plane came straight at him, its machine guns strafing the ground.

"I thought he was going to hit the tower," Sergeant Welch said, "and believe me I was scared. I froze."

"A 40 millimeter anti-aircraft gun in our area pumped three quick ones into the plane. The Jap pilot hit the silk and—surprisingly for that altitude of only 250 feet—his chute worked."

"He hit the ground standing up and began shooting at nearby men. An aviation engineer potted him with a carbine before he could do any harm."

Sergeant Welch's mother, Mrs. Daisy Welch lives at 322 West Washington street in Macomb.

Foot, Mouth Disease Alarms British Isles

LONDON — (INS)—British Ministry of Agriculture veterinary officials are alarmed today at the most serious and widespread outbreak of foot and mouth disease Britain has known for 25 years.

Control of the disease is seriously hampered by the fact that research experts have had to revise many of their ideas as to the origin and spread of the infection.

It was formerly thought the animals could become infected at markets, pastures, from the boots of people moving from one farmyard to another, or even from farmyard muck carried by the tires of a cattle wagon.

Birds, especially starlings, were also thought to be guilty of carrying the disease.

However, none of these causes can be traced to a recent outbreak in the pig pens at Paddington, in the heart of London.

There have been outbreaks in the last six months in widely separated parts of England, Scotland and Wales.

Large grazing areas such as the New Forest have been put out of bounds because of the danger of contamination. Much valuable stock has been destroyed in accordance with pre-war plans for dealing with the scourge.

Because of the compulsory closing for weeks on end of important cattle and pig markets, the Ministry of Food has been making emergency plans for the reorganization of fresh meat supplies.

The foot and mouth disease virus is so powerful that neither freezing nor moderate cooking can kill it. Even the straw and sacking in which meat is packed can harbor the germ.

Both Sides In Pymatuning Dam Motors Testify

Conflicting Interests In Bill
That Permit Six Horse Power Motors On Boats

MOST PERSONS FAVOR USING OF MOTORS

HARRISBURG, March 28.—(INS)—Conflicting interests in a bill that would permit the use of six horsepower motors on Pymatuning lake was reflected at a Senate committee hearing Tuesday in the testimonies of 10 witnesses.

The chief objection to the passage of the House-approved measure was voiced by John Heron of Pittsburgh, representing a group of Allegheny county businessmen. He pointed out the lake bottom was a bog and the shore area was lined with stumps not conducive for a resort type of recreation.

Harmful To Fish

The noise and oil from motors would be harmful to fish and other wildlife, he stated. "The lake was created primarily to supply water to mills and was not intended to be a resort for swimming and sailing."

Being a shallow body of water, it is too dangerous for that type of pleasure," he added. "As a quiet fishing haunt, it could prove valuable for recreational therapy for veterans who don't want to hear noise mindful of machine guns."

James S. Pates of Washington asserted the lake would be too dangerous for children with outboard motor boats among rowboats and canoes.

Would Help Veterans

Groups favoring the measure claimed some veterans would be unable to traverse the lake unless motors were permitted and asserted the lake was large enough for both types of craft.

J. Perry Eckels of Meadville, counsel for the Pymatuning Lake Association, said, "We are against speed boats, but in such a large area motors are essential."

Ferris Breth, a former legislator, urged the full utilization of the fishing facilities as a means of conservation. He predicted a 50 per cent increase in licensed fishermen after the war and stressed the need of speedier means of travel on the lake.

Must Conserve Fish

"Pymatuning lake produced more fish per acre of water than any other lake in the country," he said. "Mother nature will step in and find some way of decreasing their numbers unless we conserve the supply by utilizing the fishing ground."

Leaves Job For Baseball

Bucky Walters, Cincinnati's pitcher, has left his defense job to join the team. He won 23 and lost eight games last season.

Oklahoma Aggies Trip New York U.

Oklahoma A. & M. Wins National

NEW YORK, March 28.—(INS)—Oklahoma A. & M. held the national NCAA basketball championship today after edging out New York University 49 to 45 in a hard-fought Madison Square Garden battle.

Seven-foot Bob Kurland paced the Aggies by scoring 22 points despite NYU's best efforts to fence him in. He was closely supported by Cecil Hankins, who accounted for another 13 points for Oklahoma.

Winning the title gives A. & M. the chance to meet DePaul, victor of the national invitation tourney, in the Red Cross classic tomorrow night and match the towering Kurland with George Mikan, the record-busting sensation of the season.

Pirate Regulars Swamp Yanigans

MUNCIE, Ind., March 28.—(INS)—Moundman Rip Sewell today had orders to stay off first base line when double drills are in progress, after a close shave by a long drive while playing at first during a spirited battling drill yesterday.

The drive came from the bat of Bill Rogers, kid slugger from Harrisburg.

The regulars continued to abuse the Yanigans again yesterday by swamping them 14-4 in a six inning contest. The first team found Len Gilmore and John Smith, a minor league vet, for 13 hits, while Moose Fralick and Joe Vitelli yielded only four to the Yans.

Three more games will be played at the "Y" tonight in the Junior Church Basketball league. The first game starts at 6:30 o'clock and will have the St. George Greeks tangle with the Third U. P. team.

The other two games tonight will be as follows: Croton vs. Central Presbyterians, and Second U. P. vs. First Presbyterians.

The schedule for Thursday will be as follows:

6:00 p. m.—Highland U. P. vs. Central Presbyterians.

6:30 p. m.—Croton Methodist vs. First Presbyterians.

7:00 p. m.—First U. P. vs. Second U. P.

Pitcher Schanz To Join Phils

WILMINGTON, Del., March 28.—(INS)—The Phillies 1945 prospects brightened today as General Manager Herb Pennock announced that Pitcher Charlie Schanz, who won 13 last year, is enroute to camp.

Pennock also reported that Anton Karl, star relief hurler, will be available for week-end duty in the east, and that Andy Latchie and Jimmy Waddell have signed. Still listed as holdouts are Al Gearhauer, Buster Adams and Coaker Triplett.

FAIR OR FOUL By LAWTON CARVER INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, March 28.—This is about the time of year when customarily the experts sort through the American league clubs and inevitably come up with the emphatic statement that the New York Yankees are a cinch to win the pennant. These experts are a little baffled now. So is Manager McCarthy. He's baffled and probably a little worried. Owner Larry McPhail goes that one better by being baffled, worried and a little irate.

The trouble with the Yanks at the moment is nothing that a few players couldn't help. Those few players include Pitcher Bill Zuber and Ernie Bonham. Infielders Frankie Crosetti, Nick Etten and Mike Milosevich, and Old Folks Bob Collins, the catcher. None of these has shown up so far at the Atlantic City training camp.

Crosetti Stubborn

While the Yanks haven't been hard hit since last season by the draft, they need all the men on the roster to plug up the gaps of previous inroads and others expected soon through the possible loss of Outfielder Johnny Lindell. Infielder George Stinnweiss and a couple more lesser lights.

MacPhail's temperature has gone up slightly in his dealings with Crosetti. The latter is determined to get $20,000, reportedly for the coming season, and MacPhail is equally stern in his resistance against going above $15,000. Crosetti may have the final say.

Yankers Need Men

If the Yanks lose two or three ball players in the next few weeks, they will be hard-pressed. They will need Crosetti and not only this veteran shortstop, but Joe Blow or a ball player by any other name.

The Yank pitching during the coming season will be headed by Hank Borowy and Ernie Bonham—if the latter shows up finally. Thus far he has remained in California. He is expected to be with the club.

Whatever else may be said about the approaching season, there is no uncertainty now about the Yanks and most of the other clubs, too, than ever before in the three years of the war. This fourth year war is the toughest, as things stand now.

Phil Cavarretta At First For Cubs

FRENCH LICK, Ind., March 28.—(INS)—Phil Cavarretta appeared to be sure today of another year's lease on his first base job with the Chicago Cubs, although Manager Charlie Grimm has been giving Heinz Becker every opportunity to qualify for the position.

It had been Grimm's plan to shift Cavarretta to the outfield if Becker made good at first, but the latter, who never was a sensation as a fielder, now has been down in his hitting although he had a 24% mark with Milwaukee last season.

MacPhail's temperature has gone up slightly in his dealings with Crosetti. The latter is determined to get $20,000, reportedly for the coming season, and MacPhail is equally stern in his resistance against going above $15,000. Crosetti may have the final say.

LaMotta Sure Of Bout In Chicago

CHICAGO, March 28.—(INS)—Matchmaker Jack Hurley said today Jack LaMotta, New York middleweight, will be matched in the main event of a boxing show at the Chicago stadium May 11 as a result of LaMotta's six-round knockout of George Costner Monday night.

Hurley said he was trying to get Ray "Sugar" Robinson as the New Yorker's opponent and that if he failed he might make an offer to Freddy "Red" Cochrane, welterweight champion.

Two Confirmed To
State Game Board
HARRISBURG, March 28.—(INS)—Nicholas Biddle of Jenkintown, and Harold Moltz of Williamsport, had Senate confirmation today as members of the state game commission.

Re-appointed by Gov. Edward Martin, they will serve until January 1947.

GOLFERS WILL MEET
All captains and officials of the New Castle Church Golf league will have an important meeting Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the El-Holt and Waddington store, North Mercer street, with Morgan Jones Sr. conducting the meeting. Any captain unable to attend can contact President Jones at phone 1560. During the day or 4369-R in the evening.

WALKER IS HOLDOUT
BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., March 28.—(INS)—While National League Batting Champion Dixie Walker continued to spurn Branch Rickey's terms, the Dodgers today had two other players back in the fold. Rickey revealed that Augie Galan, who hit .318 last year, and Pitcher Les Webber had agreed to sign contracts.

SAINTS END SEASON
St. Mary's basketball team ended its 1944-45 basketball season last evening by defeating the South Side Aces, 40 to 39, in a thriller. Starring in the game were E. Murphy, Bobosky, Bucker and Malanard.

Seven Changes For Floor Rules

Basketball today faced seven changes in the rules—all of them minor—voted by the national basketball committee of the United States and Canada.

The most important of these revisions was in the rule governing time out. Whereas time out in the past could be cancelled by a substitution within 30 seconds, now only an injury will prevent a team from being charged with calling time.

Other changes, including strengthening of the regulation governing game delays, elimination of the violation when an offensive player touches his own net except when the ball is on the rim, and adoption of a standard set of signals by officials.

Golf Balls And Fishing Tackle Sought For Deshon

American Legion Sponsors Drive
For Needed Equipment In Reconditioning Wounded Vets

Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, has instituted a drive for golf balls and fishing tackle, needed in recreational conditioning of wounded men at Deshon Hospital Annex here.

The post voted to sponsor the project after they heard of the great need for this equipment from Capt. J. Kenneth Vanderhoff, executive officer of the Annex, at their meeting Tuesday evening.

Regular calisthenics, it has been found, becomes not only monotonous but impractical, because it cannot be continued for the length of time needed to produce a maximum amount of good. Golf, it has been found, exercises most of the muscles of the body but in a mild way, and at the same time has a relaxing effect upon the patient. Fishing also has the same beneficial effect.

There is also a need for boats, which can be used on nearby Cascade Park lake.

Golf balls need not be in the best of condition, but an old ball must be turned in to be reconditioned, before a new one can be secured. Fishing tackle should be in fair condition, not something someone wants to throw away as useless. The Legion states. However, there are some boys at the Annex who are handy at repairing such articles, and they can make minor repairs.

Anyone who can donate any of the articles needed is asked to contact Chairman Walter G. Dietler, or his co-chairmen, R. L. Boyd or C. C. Sweeney.

Indians Arrange For Three Games

LaFAYETTE, Ind., March 28.—(INS)—The first actual competition of the year will be met by the Cleveland Indians in the exhibition games scheduled for the coming week-end. The contests will be with the army's Chaute Field nine on the University of Illinois diamond at Champaign, Ill., Friday afternoon; with the Illinois on their home field, the following day and with the LaFayette Red Sox, a semi-pro team, in LaFayette Sunday.

The Detroiters was far ahead after the first five rounds ended in the earlier match, but withered badly in the last five, barely finishing.

Leon Spencer Will Meet Garcia Again

DETROIT, March 28.—(INS)—Leon Spencer, who outboxed Joey Peralta three weeks ago, will attempt to wipe out the only blot on his record next Monday night when he meets Ruby Garcia, Puerto Rican lightweight, in a rematch.

The Detroiters was far ahead after the first five rounds ended in the earlier match, but withered badly in the last five, barely finishing.

Girl Ushers In Baseball Parks

CHICAGO, March 28.—(INS)—Andy Frain, whose employees before the war were ushering sports fans to their seats in 21 cities, said today that when the Cubs open April 17 at Wrigley field the "ushers" will outnumber the ushers 300 to 150.

Most of the girls whom Frain has engaged are wives, sisters or other kin of his ushers who are now in military service.

ETTEN TO REPORT
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 28.—(INS)—Nick Etten was en route from Chicago to join the Yankees today, demitting Manager Joe McCarthy's first base worries considerably. Etten, who has been working in a car plant, reported by phone that he will be able to play ball this season.

SEEKING GRIDDERS HERE
Johnny Holahan of the Pittsburgh Steelers called a few days ago and hopes to find some football material for the Steelers in this city or Lawrence county. Former high school players who have been out of school a year are eligible as candidates. Boys who have played football and do not intend to go to college are also being paged.

Legion Head To Be Here In April

National Commander Edward N. Scheiberling Will Be Guest Of District

PLANS ANNOUNCED AT POST MEETING

Arrangements were completed by Perry S. Gaston post, American Legion, for the entertainment of their national commander, Edward N. Scheiberling, who will be the guest of the American Legion posts of the 26th district here on Tuesday, April 10.

C. C. Sweeney, past commander of Perry S. Gaston post, and general chairman of the arrangements for the visit of National Commander Scheiberling, stated that the national commander and his party will arrive here during the afternoon, and following a reception in the Legion Home at 6:30 p. m., when the commanders of the posts in the district and their wives, together with department and district officers, will be guests.

Program At Cathedral

This will be followed by a program in the Cathedral at 7:30 o'clock, when the national commander will speak on the American Legion's program for the year, and will also include organ numbers by Bernice Armstrong and vocal numbers by Howard Price.

Following the program in the auditorium, dancing will take place in the Cathedral ballroom.

Soldiers stationed at Deshon annex and discharged veterans here will be guests of the Perry S. Gaston post. Others may obtain tickets from members of the Gaston post, a small charge being made to cover expenses incidental to the meeting.

The post also voted funds for entertainment of the Deshon soldiers at a party to be staged in the near future.

At the close of the meeting, Capt. Albert W. Lathrop of the WAC recruiting office in Pittsburgh, explained the great need for more women for the medical corps, stating that even should the war end tomorrow, there would still be need for additional help.

In conclusion, some excellent pictures showing scenes of the present war were shown, which were deeply appreciated by the veterans. The pictures were secured through the courtesy of Lt. C. O. Hutton, in charge of the local WAC recruiting office, who was accompanied by Sgts. Byron Heffner and Kenneth Foster of the local office.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechnut creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)
